Quotes about change:

Restlessness and discontent are the first necessities of progress. (Thomas Edison)

Progress, far from consisting in change, depends on retentiveness. Those who cannot remember the past are condemned to repeat it. (George Santayana)

Good judgment comes from experience and experience comes from bad judgment. (Fred Brooks)

Daring ideas are like chessmen moved forward; they may be beaten, but they may start a winning game. (Johann Wolfgang von Goethe)

Technological progress is like an axe in the hands of a pathological criminal. (Albert Einstein)

When change is discontinuous, the success stories of yesterday have little relevance to the problems of tomorrow. (Charles Handy)

Like a man who has worn eyeglasses so long that he forgets he has them on, we forget that the world looks to us the way it does because we have become used to seeing it that way through a particular set of lenses. (Kenich Ohmae)
